Deaf ESL

Harriet Fulbright College was founded with the support of Harriet Fulbright, president of the J. William & Harriet Fulbright Center, a non-profit, non-governmental organization based in Washington D.C. that supports international collaborations among students, teachers, and schools, and culturally immersive programs for scholars and world leaders. The Center was founded by Mrs. Fulbright and her late husband, United States Senator J. William Fulbright.

Anything a visitor would want to do is available here in the nation's capital and surrounding area. HFC instructors and staff will be happy to provide you with information on any activities that you would like to engage in after class and during the weekends.

Student Life

To ensure exposure to a variety of language styles and accents, HFC English programs include (at no additional cost) the study of English through current American media. Television news reports, movies, documentaries, dramas, and comedies are viewed in class or assigned as homework activities. Then, in class, students practice the vocabulary and expressions and discuss aspects of American culture, values, and society through role-play and conversational activities.

Furthermore, we celebrate all major holidays (Independence Day, Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, etc.), which give our students a first-hand taste of American culture, customs, and traditions.
